DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 3-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 5,226,568 to Newton et al.

Newton et al. show a one way valve 15 for discharging flowable material from container 10 of reducible volume, as seen in Figs. 3 and 5, having a valve seat 28 arranged in the container neck 18, a base body 23 with through holes 27, a cylindrical projection 25 extending in the axial direction towards the exit opening 34 and having a tamper section, an elastic seal 33 with an annular section 32 covering the holes, a sleeve-like section 33 surrounding the projection at a radial distance except at the valve seat, the annular section of the seal is held by an annular projection 36 of the cap 14 outside the holes.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2 and 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 5,226,568 to Newton et al. in view of US 5,490,938 to Sawan et al.

Newton et al. show all claimed features as discussed above except for a sterilization means arranged in the product flow path. Sawan et al. show a filter coated with a bactericidal element that is located in the flow path of the product to be dispensed. It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device of Newton et al. to include a bactericidal element in the flow path of the product as taught by Sawan et al. to provide a liquid dispenser that can be used for dispensing preservative-free liquid medicaments that are required to be sterile.

In reference to claim 16, see column 9, lines 1-4.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. LoTurco shows a storage bottle for contact lens. Gueret shows a dispenser for liquid products. Ammann shows a closure for dispensing orifices.
